Beaufort, Port-Royal, June 3, 1766.

MR. CROUCH,
THE inclosed is a Copy of a Case of a very extraordinary Nature, an almost incredible Cure performed upon one of my Men, who had the Misfortune to have his Skull fractured by a Fall from the Main-Mast-Head of the Vessel which I am Master of: It would be the greatest Injustice to the Surgeon who undertook the Cure of this Man, to conceal it from the Publick, I shall therefore esteem the Favour of your giving it a Place in your Gazette. At my Request, it was drawn up by the Gentleman who performed the Operation, and completed the Cure, to be delivered to an eminent Surgeon in London. The Man is at this Time perfectly well and able to do his Duty. I declare that this Gentleman does not know my Intention of doing him the Credit, which his Skill and Abilities as a Surgeon, call upon me to make as publick an Acknowledgment of as I can, and which through the Channel of your Paper I beg he will accept, as a Testimony how truly sensible I am of his Merit, and the Applause which he undoubtedly deserves, I sincerely hope he may meet with.
I am, Your's, &c.
JOHN DAVIES,
Commander of the Snow Elizabeth, of London.

SOUTH-CAROLINA, June 1, 1766.

SIR,

ON the 19th of March last, a young Sailor about twenty Years of Age, of a healthy robust Constitution, had the Misfortune to fall from the Mast-Head of a large Snow, lying in the Harbour of Port-Royal, and pitched with his Head on the Handle of an Iron bound Bucket, lying on the Main-Deck; by which fall he received several Wounds; after this Accident happened, I was sent for, upon Examination, I apprehended an extensive Fracture of the Os Coronale, similar to the Epiplasma of the Ancients, I likewise discovered a Transverse, and not inconsiderable Solution of Continuity, in the Muscles of the Larynx, and a Contusion on the upper Part of the Meta Tarsus, with a penetrating Puncture sherron; such a Complication of Accidents, particularly those of the Epiplasma, made my prognostic of his Case unavoidably mortal, from which, my first Inclination of performing the Operation of Trepan, was much cooled, especially when I considered the numerous depressed Particles of the Coronale, one of them having made its Way and carried with it two distinct Bundles of Hair, between the Cavity of that Part and the Dura-Mater, which was thereby much excoiated; considering it is always better to apply an uncertain Remedy, than to abandon the Patient to a certain Death, I made a Crucial Dilation, suitable to the Exigency of the Case, by which I discovered the above Fracture in its Extent; its Nature on one Hand did not require the Trepan, and on the other absolutely forbid it; in the first Place, a triangular Piece of an Inch, in its most distant Angles, having undergone the Cavity, thereby permitted the Exclusion of the extravasated Blood; secondly, the Epiplasma occupying most of the Coronale, the Trepan was not only impracticable, but would have proved useless and offensive; the Reason of which, a Surgeon who will consider an Epiplasma of this Kind, will soon perceive.

Though I have not the Pleasure of being personally acquainted with you; yet the amiable and distinguished Character you bear in the World, and the high and merited Esteem you hold in the Opinion of every Professor of Surgery; and which I am not a Stranger to, gives me Room to hope, that a Relation of my Method of performing this Cure, will prove acceptable; therefore shall proceed, saying, that considering the Extension of a Fracture of the above Denomination, I could not with Safety, Trepan the Patient, without injuring the Orbicular Sinus or the Ossa Temporaria, for the former admitting a Filtration of Humour, the Wound thereby would have been rendered incurable, and the Ossa Temporaria being articulated in the Manner of Scales, the Piece that I should have taken off, would have separated from each other, and the Consequence of such a Proceeding, you are sensible of, therefore I dressed the Wound simply. Twenty-four Hours after the first Apparatus, I took it off, then having a much clearer View, I perceived the Want of the Piece of the Coronale abovementioned, which I found totally separated from the Rest, to which were adherent, the two distinct Bundles of Hair, lodged as I have said: This happy Event, Youth and a good Constitution in the Patient, renewed my hopes, and after the Extraction of those Bodies, a Quantity of extravasated Blood discharged itself through the accidental Hole; I re-elevated the Piece that was sunk, and treated it afterwards as in the Case of an essential Trepan; this Method, joined to the adapted universal Remedy, succeeded. All that the Patient is left with, is a Scar, leaving a curved Cicatrix, in which an English Beam might be contained; as for the Solution of Continuity mentioned, with proper Consolidants of the Sutura thereof, the Reunion was procured. The Pusillure and Contusion of the Meta Tarsus having soon yielded, within two Months from the Time the Accident happened, I returned the Man to the Vessel he belonged to, recommending it to his Captain to treat him with Lenity.

I am, with great Esteem, Sir, Your's, &c.

Mr. Otis has Leave to communicate his Excellency's Sentiments on this Occasion to the Town, and it is presumed he will, with Pleasure, embrace the very first Opportunity to execute so honourable a Commission.

PHILADELPHIA, MAY 3.

Extract of a Letter from London, March 1, 1766.

"The Regulations for Trade, at present in Agitation, as far as I can recollect, are the following, viz. A Sterling Paper Currency over the whole Continent. The Duty of Molasses lowered to one Penny per Gallon. Free Trade with the French and Spaniards in the West-Indies. Free Import of West-India Commodities, Duty free, into Provincial Warehouses, under the King's Lock, the Duty to be paid when taken out for Home Consumption, to be exported on Bond, Duty free. Drawbacks upon Wines, &c. upon Exportation. Import of Portugal, Spanish and Italian Wines, Fruit, &c. Manufactures only excepted, under very light Duties. Part of the present Duty on Tea to be taken off. A Bounty upon Pig, and perhaps Bar-Iron. There may be some others; but these are the principal Regulations; I hope they will all pass, but the Spirit of Opposition must certainly overlet some of them."

PHILADELPHIA, May 25.

On Monday Morning last, arrived here, the Brig Minerva, Captain Wife, from Poole, in eight Weeks, and brought with him what we have been long impatiently waiting for, AN ACT OF PARLIAMENT, repealing the STAMP-ACT.

We had before an Account, that this Bill had been supported by a Majority in the House of Commons, and was sent up to the House of Lords, where, it seems, long and warm Debates arose; but, on the 11th of March last, upon the Question being put, it was carried in Favour of the Bill by a Majority of thirty-four Lords; and on the 14th, this Law received the Royal Assent. An Event that has caused almost universal Joy in England, especially amongst those people who value their Liberty, and have Sense enough to see the Blessings it confers to their Brethren in America. If the Transports of our Joy on this Occasion, should lead us into Modes of Expenditure not quite consistent with the Moderation our Friends in England advise. However, notwithstanding the Gossip and Gossip of our present Rejoicings, not one single Instance of that Kind of Triumph, so much dreaded by our Friends, and wished for by our Enemies in England, has escaped the warmest Son of Liberty in this City, as will appear by the following Account of our Proceedings.

The Minerva came to an Anchor opposite the Town, before it was known from whence she came, or the News she brought; but one of the Inhabitants having immediately gone on board, he received the glorious Tidings, and instantly proclaimed the News, brought the Law on Shore, as published by BASKETT, the KING's Printer, read it aloud at the London Coffee-House, and, a Multitude being by this Time collected, three loud Huzzas testified their Approbation; a Deputation from the Number was directly sent down to wait on Captain Wife, and having first made the Ship's Company a Present, they conducted him to the Coffee-House with Colours flying, &c. A large Bowl of Punch was ready, in which he drank Prosperity to America; and was complimented with a Gold laced Hat, for having brought the first certain Account of the Stamp-Act being totally repealed. The Inhabitants then appointed the next Evening to illuminate the City, which was done to the universal Satisfaction of all Spectators; the Houses made a most beautiful Appearance, to which the Regularity of our Streets contributed not a little; the Scene was, however, variegated, by the different Manner of placing the Lights, Devices, &c. for which the Publick is indebted to the Ladies, who exercised their Fancies on the Occasion.

It was very remarkable, that the City was not disturbed by any Riot or Mob, as is common on such Occasions, but the whole was begun, continued, and ended, to the universal Satisfaction of the Inhabitants. A large Quantity of Wood was given for a Bonfire, and many Barrels of Beer to the Populace. And Yesterday the principal Inhabitants gave an elegant Entertainment at the State-House, at which his Honour the GOVERNOR, and the Officers of Government; the Military Gentlemen; Captain Hawker, of his Majesty's Ship Sardine, the other Gentlemen of the Navy, and the Strangers in the City, were present. The Honours of the Table were performed by the Worshipful Mayor of the City, assisted by some of the Aldermen; and, considering that not less than 300 Plates were laid, the whole was conducted with the greatest Elegance and Decorum; so that Detraction itself must be silent on the Occasion. After Dinner the following Toasts were drank, in flowing Glasses, viz.

1. The KING.
2. The QUEEN.
3. PRINCE OF WALES, and ROYAL FAMILY.
4. May the illustrious House of HANOVER preside over the united British Empire, to the End of Time.
5. The House of LORDS.
6. The House of COMMONS.
7. The present worthy MINISTRY.
8. The glorious and immortal PITT.
9. That Lover and Supporter of Justice, Lord CAMDEN.
10. The LONDON COMMITTEE of MERCHANTS.
11. AMERICA's Friends in Great-Britain.

12. The VIRGINIA ASSEMBLY.

13. All other ASSEMBLIES on the Continent, situated by the like Zeal for the Liberties of their Country.

14. Prosperity to the spirited Inhabitants of ST. CHRISTOPHERS.

15. The NAVY and ARMY.

16. DANIEL DULANTY, Esquire.

17. May the Interest of GREAT-BRITAIN and her COLONIES be always united.

18. TRADE and NAVIGATION.

19. AMERICA's Friends in Ireland.

20. Prosperity to the Province of PENNSYLVANIA.

21. The Liberty of the PRESS in America.

With many others, of the same publick Nature. The Cannon belonging to the Province, being placed in the State-House Yard, the Royal Salute was fired on drinking the King, and seven Guns after every succeeding Toast. The whole concluded in the Evening with Bonfires, Ringing of Bells, and Strong-Beer to the Populace, and gave general Satisfaction to every Person concerned.

The following Resolution was unanimously agreed to by the Company, viz.

That to demonstrate our Affection to Great-Britain, and our Gratitude for the REPEAL of the STAMP-ACT, each of us will, on the 4th of June next, being the Birth-Day of our most gracious Sovereign GEORGE III. dress ourselves in a new Suit, of the Manufactures of England, and give what HOME-SPUN we have to the POOR.

On this Occasion, the Publick are much obliged to Capt. Hawker, of his Majesty's Ship Sardine, as he brought her up before the Town, and dressed her off with a Variety of Colours.

By Letters from Jamaica, we learn, that in about four Months, the Duties arising from the Stamps in that Island, amounted to more than 10,000 l. Sterling.

Some Time ago, a Number of Bermudian and other English Vessels, raking Salt at Sal-Tortuga, were seized by some Spanish Ships of War, and carried into Lagaira, on the Coast of Caraccas, where they were condemned: But upon Application to Admiral Tynel, and his sending an armed Vessel to demand Restitution and Satisfaction, we are informed, all those Vessels have been lately restored, and an offer made of Compensation for Damages.

GENTLEMEN,

IT gives me great Pleasure to receive the Congratulations of a Society formed upon so good a Plan; and subject to Regulations that are alone intended for the Encouragement of liberal and polite Arts; by which Means the native Ruggedness of the Indian may be polished, and the Trade and Manufactures of the Country be improved.

C. G. MONTAGU
